

Dear friends of “Modern Electrochemical Methods” – “Jetřichovice“,

We invite you to the international conference “Modern Electrochemical Methods” (MEM), which will be held from November 8th to 12th, 2021 – as usually - at Hotel Bellevue (conference venue, accommodation, and meals), Jetřichovice near Děčín, Czech Republic.

In the last four decades, several generations of Czech and foreign electrochemists, students, and friends of electrochemistry participated in this event, which developed during the time into a traditional international conference. Nevertheless, the most important person and founder of MEM was RNDr. Miloslav Kopanica, Ph.D., one of the important followers of the legacy of prof. Jaroslav Heyrovsky and disseminator of the Czech electrochemistry. We believe that your contributions will help to maintain the traditional high professional level of the conference with enough space for discussions and with the typical informal atmosphere, which is open to various forms of active participation.

The conference is organized in scientific cooperation with the J. Heyrovský Institute of Physical Chemistry of the Czech Academy of Sciences, Prague, with the Institute of Biophysics of the Czech Academy of Sciences, Brno, with the Department of Analytical Chemistry, Faculty of Science, Charles University, Prague, and with the Czech Chemical Society. The conference is also sponsored (among others) by Metrohm, Czech Republic.
